Bob Pollock

The Clemson Track and Field family lost Bob Pollock, a transformational figure in the program's history, on February 20th, 2010. He was diagnosed with lung cancer during August of 2009. He was 60 years old.

Pollock led the program to national prominence during his 20 years at the helm. His first season in 1988 saw the cross country team win the league title and finish fourth overall at the NCAA national meet. Pollock would amass 11 indoor ACC titles, nine outdoor and the one cross country title during his tenure.

As a coach, Pollock was at the forefront of the department's success, earning the 21 ACC Championships, along with 19 ACC Coach of the Year selections and 16 NCAA Regional Coach-of-the-Year honors. Under Pollock's guidance, the men's indoor track team amassed 11 top 20 finishes and the men's outdoor program earned 10 top 20 finishes on the national level. Seven of the 11 top 20 finishes earned by the indoor team were within the top 10.

In 1992, Pollock was named the National Coach-of-the-Year for the indoor campaign after leading Clemson to a national runner-up finish, which is still the best in program history.

Athletes coached by Pollock were no strangers to national success, as 13 athletes claimed national titles and nearly 200 received All-American honors. 10 of the 13 national champions were crowned at the indoor championships.

Pollock was instrumental to the development of two-sport athletes, such as Jacoby Ford and C.J. Spiller, who spent their first two years at Clemson with Pollock and the track program. The duo of Ford and Spiller combined to amass a staggering 11,671 yards while a part of the Tiger football team.

"Coach Pollock was an outstanding coach and certainly helped my career in many ways," said Spiller. "He gave me an opportunity and many other athletes an opportunity to be the best they could over the last 20 years. He had such a big impact on the Clemson track program. He certainly had a positive impact on my football career. He taught me a lot about speed and endurance.

"But, just as much, he helped me with the mental aspect of competition. He had the ability to get you focused when getting prepared for a championship. I used that same thought process when I prepared for the ACC football championship in 2009."

Pollock developed his athletes to a point where they could represent their country on the biggest of stages. Fourteen student-athletes would go on to represent the program at the Olympic games, with two winning gold medals. The two Olympic-champion athletes were Carlton Chambers and Shawn Crawford.

Pollock was inducted posthumously into the Clemson Athletics Hall of Fame in 2010. Pollock was also a member of USTFCCA's Hall of Fame class of 2012.

The Rochester, NY, native earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from The Citadel before earning a master's degree in education from the University of Georgia in 1972. Pollock returned to The Citadel in 1972 to begin his coaching career, and in 1974 moved to Appalachian State University where he spent 14 years at the helm of the program.
