Clemson head coach Tommy Bowden

My main concern right now is the difference in the first and second team offense. The defense got them a 0 (shutout), which is the main thing they're interested in as far scoring in the conference, The real thing that we've got to work on is the penalties we got, which I think was too many (12 for 124 yards). We knew that The Citadel would be outmanned and we did a good job in putting pressure on them most of the night. The Citadel never gave up in coming at us.

I think the defense is on schedule, as is the punting. I think Reggie (Herring, defensive coordinator) and his staff have done a good job getting the defense ready. But the second team offense is behind the first team offense and will get most of our attention and work as we prepare for Missouri (Clemson's opponent Saturday, Sept. 9).

I thought (Keith) Kelly did a good job in running as did a lot of the red-shirt who will be playing more ball as the year goes on and will be the ones that we count on next year.

Overall, I think we did a pretty good job for it to be the first outing. (Quarterback Woodrow) Dantzler showed that he still has the touch. We wanted to give Willie (Simmons) and Matt (Schell) some playing time. We had seen pretty much what the first-team offense could do. And as you saw, the second team offense needs a lot of work.

Clemson vs. Citadel Notes

This is the ninth time Clemson has recorded a shutout against The Citadel in the last 13 games, going back to 1933. Clemson has outscored the Bulldogs 327-35 in the last 13 games, an average score of 25.2 to 2.7.
