Clemson Starter Changes

There are four starter changes for Clemson off the depth-chart, flip card, two on offense and two on defense.

On offense: Steve Reese will start at right guard in place of Andy Cheatham. Reese graded higher in the last game and has a fine week of practice.

Joe Ellis will make his first start this year and the second of his career at right tackle in place of Jeff Cruce. Cruce has an ankle and knee sprain, but should play today.

On Defense: Ray Brown will start at right tackle in stead of Jim Scott. The two trade off each week.

Roy Brown will make the first start of his career at the bandit end in place of Terrence Mack. Mack has a broken little toe on his left foot. It was suffered late in practice on Tuesday. Mack will play in this game.

Terrence Flagler is not scheduled to dress for today's game. He had knee surgery on September 16 after an injury suffered at Boston College. He ran on the side at practice this week, but did not take any contact work.

Coaches Quotes

Virginia Coach George Welsh - I didn't think there was much difference between last year and this year (Virginia-Clemson game)...I don't think we played very well... especially defensively...played six games now and we haven't tackled well in three of them...we've given up way too many yards after intial hits...we have to get more points than what we got in the first half...we have to score at least one touchdown in that first half to stay in the game...we were inconsistent....

Why Majkowski?: Had to get someone else in the game at that point...just wanted to see him in action...we had nothing to lose at that point...wanted to see how he would react... If we had stopped them at 35-21, maybe we could have gotten back in the game...but we didn't....that was the story all day...I thought Majkowski played well.

CLEMSON Coach Danny Ford -- We're a ho-hum football team right now. We'll do just enough and they'll scare the devil out of you doing it, and it's not what we would like. We'll do well enough to win.

The first three times we got the football, I don't think we could have played better. We looked like a machine. But we lose our momentum. Defensively, it looks like if we want to take the football away, we will, and if we decide we want to play with them, they'll take the football and ram it down our throat.

That's not consistently football. It's good enough football today to win. I don't know if that will be good enough to win against Duke, our next opponent, to win or not. But we have to get more consistent.

I'm glad we kept our home streak alive (17 straight games without a loss). But we're still lacking a killer instinct. We had a chance to put them out early and we had a chance in the third quarter, but mistakes, fumbles and way too many penalties kept us from doing it.

But Virginia kept coming back. They did a good job. Coach Welsh and his staff did a tremendous job, and they had a good game plan, and they executed it very well at times.. We're still not where we'd like to be, I'm not happy with a lot of things we're doing. But we'll still improving and getting better and I guess that's what you try to do everytime you go out.
