Clemson Finishes as Co-Champion at Landfall Tradition

Chloe Holder shot a school record tying 63, Annabelle Pancake shot a bogey free 66 to finish second individually, and Isabella Rawl birdied three of her last four holes to lead Clemson to the co-championship of the Landfall Tradition on October 29, 2023 at the Country Club of Landfall in Wilmington, NC.

Duke also had a 21-under-par score for the 54 holes and was presented the tournament championship trophy due to a tie-breaker system that compared the scores of the fifth best player on each team. There was no playoff on the course.

The tournament concluded the fall season for Kelley Hester's Tigers, who were ranked 16th in the nation entering the 18-team tournament. It was Clemson's first tournament championship since winning the ACC Championship last spring.

Clemson and Duke finished with identical scores of 21-under-par 843, while UCF finished third at 844. Arizona was fourth at nine-under-par 855.

Rawl made a clinching putt when Clemson won the ACC title last April, and her 10-foot birdie on her final hole, the third hole, Sunday, was a big reason the Tigers were able to tie the Blue Devils. It was Rawl's third birdie in her last four holes to finish with her third consecutive one-under-par 71. Her 213 total was tied for 15th in the field of 96 players.

Pancake also made a 10-foot putt for par on her final hole, also the third hole, that was also a big reason the Tigers shot a final round score of 16-under par 272 on Sunday, the second best team score vs. par in Clemson history. Pancake had a final round 66 thanks to six birdies and no bogeys, and it gave her a second-place finish for the 54 hole event with a 207 score, nine-under-par.

Holder's 63 featured a Clemson record tying nine birdies and nine pars. The junior from Anderson moved up 41 places in the standings to a seventh-place standing on the final day. It was her career best round, and it was the best round of the tournament by any player.

"She was hitting the ball close to the flag with her approach all day," said Hester. Holder tied the Clemson record of 63 that had been done twice by Savannah Grewal, who accomplished the feat last year at the NCAA Regional in Pullman Washington, and earlier this year at the Cougar Classic.

Grewal also contributed to the victory with a final round even-par 72. She had a 68 in the first round and finished with a 215 total, good enough for 29th place. It was the final round of Grewal's Clemson career as she successfully reached the final stage of LPGA Qualifying. Katherine Schuster also contributed to the victory with rounds of 78-73-73 for a 224 total.

Clemson had not had a player post a bogey free round so far this fall, then had three accomplish the feat on Sunday. Holder, Pancake and Sydney Roberts, who had a bogey free 70, all had bogey free rounds.

ACC Championship Match Halted by Darkness Wake Forest Declared Champion as #1 Seed

The championship match of the Atlantic Coast Conference Women's Golf Tournament between Clemson and Wake Forest was halted by darkness on Sunday night, April 21, 2024. Wake Forest was declared the conference champion by virtue of its number-one seed at the end of stroke play on Saturday.

All five matches between the Tigers and Demon Deacons had gone at least 14 holes when play was halted. Wake Forest, ranked as the number-three team in the nation by Spikemark, had a 1-0 lead by virtue of winning the only completed match. Clemson, the number-20 team in the nation by Spikemark, was ahead in two matches and Wake Forest was ahead in the other two matches still out on the course.

According to the ACC Women's Golf Manual, "In the event match play is started, but cannot be completed, the highest remaining seed will be awarded the team championship." Wake Forest was the number-one seed entering match play by virtue of its 841 team score in the stroke play competition. Clemson was the number-two seed after its 848 team total in stroke play.

The only completed match was the number-four match where Wake Forest's Macy Pate, the number-35 player in the nation, defeated Clemson's Sydney Roberts, 4+3.

In the number-one match, Wake Forest's Rachel Kuehn, who was the medalist in the stroke play competition, had a 2-UP lead on Clemson's Isabella Rawl through 15 holes. Rawl had finished in a tie for second in stroke play and had a 5-0 career record in match play at Clemson entering the match. She still retains that record with the cancellation of the match.

Wake Forest also had the lead at the number-two match where Carolina Lopez-Chacarra, the number-15 ranked player in the nation, had a 2-UP lead through 15 holes against Clemson's Chloe Holder.

Clemson held the lead when the team match was called at the number-three and number-five matches. Clemson's Annabelle Pancake was 1-UP through 15 holes over Wake Forest's Brooke Rivers, and Clemson's Melena Barrientos was 3-UP through 14 holes against Wake Forest's Mimi Rhodes.

With the cancellation due to darkness, Clemson retains its perfect 3-0 record in match play at the ACC Tournament. Clemson defeated Duke and Virginia to win the ACC title last year. Earlier on Sunday, Clemson downed Virginia in the semifinals, 3-2.

Clemson Finishes Second at Bryan Regional

For the second-straight season and third time in school history, the Clemson women's golf team advanced to the NCAA Championships, following a second-place finish at the Bryan Regional on May 8, 2024.

Annabelle Pancake led the Tigers with a second-place finish on the individual leaderboard, the highest finish by a Clemson individual at a regional or NCAA national tournament.

The Tigers, who started the day in second place, rallied through the front nine to grab the lead from eventual champion LSU. The teams traded ties and leads until the Baton Rouge Tigers grabbed a four-stroke lead with three to play. Clemson finished the round at even par, while LSU finished at -5. Clemson finished the front nine with nine birdies, after recording eight birdies total on those nine holes in the previous two rounds.

Melena Barrientos carded the best round of the day for the Tigers, finishing at -3 (69). The Plano, Texas, native finished with five birdies on the day and finished the week at +4, tied for 21st. Pancake was the only other Tiger under par on Wednesday, finishing at -2 (70). She finished with six birdies on the day, including four on the front nine.

Chloe Holder, Isabella Rawl and Sydney Roberts all finished the week at +5 and tied for 24th overall. Roberts finished the final round at +2, while Rawl made one mistake on the back nine to finish at +3 for the round. Holder finished the afternoon at +5.

Clemson Finishes Fifth at NCAA National Tournament Reaches Match Play for First Time

On a day that saw 14 out of 15 teams on the course finish over par, Clemson women's golf used clutch shots from Melena Barrientos and Annabelle Pancake to finish the 2024 NCAA Championship stroke play in fifth place and advance to Tuesday's match play quarterfinals as one of the top-eight teams. This year's championship is being held at the Omni La Costa North Course (6,297 yards, par 72).

Monday was the first time in school history the Tigers had played in the fourth-round of stroke play and Tuesday will mark the first time the Tigers have participated in the championship match play. Pancake finished seventh in the individual standings, the highest individual stroke play finish by a Tiger at the national tournament.

The Tigers, much like the rest of the field, struggled on Monday, but a clutch birdie from Pancake on 17 and a long birdie putt from Barrientos to close out her round sent the Tigers into match play.

Southern California was the only team to finish the day under par, turning in a -1 to move up six spots and into fourth place. LSU finished the day at +3 to move into a tie for first place with Stanford, who shot +11 in round four. Texas A&M and individual champion Adela Cernousek carded a +14 on the day to finish third for the 72 holes. USC is the No. 4 seed in the match play quarterfinals, while Clemson fell one place to fifth after shooting +16 for the day.

Clemson shot a 280 as a team in the first round and had a one-shot lead over Texas A&M and two shots over Stanford. Isabella Rawl had an opening round 66 and was in second place after 18 holes.

Clemson fell to Southern California 3-1-1 in the match play quarterfinals, ending the Tigers season in a program best tied for fifth place overall.

Rawl Named WGCA All-American Scholar

Clemson sophomore Isabella Rawl was named to the 2023-24 WGCA All-America Scholars team. The health science major was also named to the Academic All-ACC team and to the CoSIDA All-District Academic team.

The native of Lexington, SC excelled on the course and in the class room this past year. She finished her sophomore year very strong with four rounds in the 60s in her last six rounds.

Rawl had her best performance at the ACC Championship where she finished second, then finished 24th at the NCAA Regional and the NCAA National. She had a 66 in the opening round of the NCAA National tournament that was the best ever for a Clemson women's golfer at the NCAA national event.

Rawl finished the season third on the Clemson team in stroke average with a 72.55 figure, the ninth best season average in Clemson history. She had 11 rounds at par or better and posted 106 birdies.

Hester Named Golf Pride Region Coach of the Year

Clemson head coach Kelley Hester was named one of four Golf Pride WGCA Regional Coaches of the Year for the 2023-24 academic year. Hester was selected for the Southern region. The other region selections were Kim Lewellen of Wake Forest (East), Garrett Runion of LSU (Central) and Anne Walker of Stanford (West).

Clemson posted a record of 130-34-2 head to head against its opponents during the year for a .794 winning percentage, best in Clemson history. That included a 25-5 mark at the NCAA National Tournament where Clemson finished fifth in stroke play to reach the match play championship.

It also included a 9-1-1 record at the NCAA Bryan Regional where Clemson finished tied for second. The best postseason run in Clemson history began at the ACC Tournament where Clemson finished second out of the 12 teams that competed.

Hester's team won its semifinal match against Virginia to move to 3-0 in match play at the ACC Tournament over the last two years.

Pancake and Holder Named All-ACC

Clemson senior Annabelle Pancake and junior Chloe Holder were both named to the 2023-24 All-ACC Women's Golf Team. It was the second straight year Pancake had been selected and the first selection for Holder.

Pancake led Clemson to a #5 national finish this year with a 71.27 stroke average, the lowest in the Clemson record books. She also set the school record for under-par scoring for the year at -12 and her 19 rounds under par also set a school mark. Her 21 rounds at par or better tied the school mark.

Pancake had an incredible postseason run as she finished 10th at the ACC tournament, second at the NCAA Bryan Regional and seventh at the NCAA National. She is the first Clemson women's golfer to record top 10s at all three of those postseason events in the same year.

Holder finished the year with a 72.30 stroke average. She tied Pancake for the most rounds in the 60s with 10 and also had 15 under-par rounds. She had a 2.98 stroke average on par three holes, best in Clemson history. She recorded three top 10s, including a third place at the Gator Invitational and a seventh place at the Landfall Tradition. Her performance at the Landfall Tradition included a Clemson record tying 63 in the final round that helped Clemson to the tournament co-championship.

Pancake Named Third-Team All-American

Annabelle Pancake was named a third-team All-American by Golfweek and an honorable mention All-American by the Women's Golf Coaches Association for the 2023-24 academic year. She was the first Clemson women's golf All-American since Alice Hewson in 2017-18. Ashlan Ramsey (2013-14) is the other All-American since the program began for the 2013-14 academic year.

Pancake, a two-time All-ACC performer, finished seventh at the 2024 NCAA Championships, the highest individual finish by a Tiger in program history. She helped her team advance to match play for the first time in school history and was the only Tiger to win her match against USC, defeating Cindy Kou, 4&3.

Pancake set a Clemson record for stroke average with a 71.27 figure. She also established the record for under-par rounds in a season with 19 and her 21 rounds at par or better tied the school mark. With her strong seventh place finish at the NCAA Tournament she finished 26th in the Spikemark national individual rankings.

Grewal Finishes Fourth at LPGA Tournament

Former Clemson All-ACC golfer Savannah Grewal shot a four-under-par 68 on Sunday, March 10, 2024 to finish tied for fourth at the Blue Bay LPGA Golf Tournament in the Peoples Republic of China. Grewal's finish was the highest ever by a former Clemson golfer on the LPGA tour. It was just the second LPGA event of her career.

Grewal had rounds of 69-74-64-68 for a 275 total. She finished in a tie for fourth with two LPGA stars. Minjee Lee is a two-time major champion, including the 2022 United States Open Champion. She also tied Lydia Ko, who is in the LPGA Hall of Fame.

Grewal's third round 64 was the low round of the tournament by any golfer and set a record for the Blue Bay LPGA Tournament. Grewal had 10 birdies in that round.

Grewal is just four months removed from being a member of the Clemson team. The Clemson graduate played for Kelley Hester's team in the fall of 2023 and had a 70.00 stroke average, best on the team in the fall, helping the team to a #15 national ranking. The native of Canada was co-medalist at the Cougar Classic in September with a 197 score, 16-under par. She was co-medalist with Ingrid Lindblad of LSU, the number-one amateur in the world.

Grewal went through the LPGA Tour Qualifying tournaments this past fall and qualified for the tour so she decided to turn professional. Overall, Grewal played four and a half years for Clemson and helped the Tigers win their first ACC Championship last spring. The team finished second at the NCAA Regional and reached the NCAA National Tournament for just the second time.

Former Tiger Alice Hewson Wins VP Bank Swiss Open

Former Clemson All-American Alice Hewson won the VP Bank Swiss Ladies Open on the Ladies European Golf Tour on June 30 2024 with a birdie on the first playoff hole to defeat Tvesa Malik of India. Hewson won the event at the Golfpark Holzhausen course just outside of Zurich, Switzerland.

It was the second career tournament victory on the LET Tour for Hewson, who won her first LET event back in 2020. With the victory Hewson moved up to number-five on the tour's point standing for this season.

Hewson began the day three shots back of the lead and was still three shots back starting the back nine after playing the front nine in one-under-par. But the holder of 25 Clemson records made birdie on the 12th and 15th holes, then holed out from a green side bunker in "slam dunk fashion" for eagle on the 17th hole. It was the 21st eagle of her career, her fifth this season.

Hewson then hit her approach shot to the 18th hole to two feet and made the putt for a final round, bogey free 65 and an 11-under-par total for the week. That gave her a one-shot lead at the time, but Malik was on a strong finishing run herself. Malik also made an eagle from the green side bunker on the 17th hole, then made a 10-foot putt for birdie on 18 to finish at 11-under par. She played her last four holes of regulation in five-under-par to force the playoff.

The two players returned to the 18th tee for the start of sudden death extra holes. Hewson had birdied the hole all three rounds, and hit her approach on the playoff hole to 10 feet. Malik missed the green on her approach to give Hewson the advantage.

The 2018 Clemson graduate who is still the only four-time first-team All-ACC golfer in Clemson women's history then finished the playoff with a birdie putt that had a foot break to the right. Hewson had rounds of 68-69-65 for a 202 total in regulation.

"I'm a little bit lost for words really," Hewson said "Huge congrats to Tvesa as well. It was an unreal finish from her today. It was an honor being out there with her in the playoff. It feels a bit surreal. It's been a while since I've been in this situation."

Alexandra Swayne, who played at Clemson from 2018-21 before turning professional after her junior year, finished 10th in the tournament with a score of 207 after a final round 67. It was Swayne's third career top 10 on the LET Tour, and her third top 15 of this season. It marked the first time two former Clemson golfers finished in the top 10 of an LET event.

Kelley Hester Contract Extension

Clemson Women's Golf Head Coach Kelley Hester agreed to an extension of her contract with the Clemson program in the summer of 2024. Her agreement with the Clemson program now runs through the end of 2029, Clemson Athletic Director Graham Neff announced.

Hester led Clemson to its first ACC Championship in April of 2023, then to a national fifth place finish at the 2024 NCAA Tournament. It was the highest finish in Clemson history and the first time Clemson has advanced to the match play championship.

Hester is now in her ninth season as head coach of the Clemson program. In addition to the ACC Championship in 2023, she took Clemson to the finals of the league tournament in 2024. The championship was called due to darkness.

Clemson has reached the NCAA Tournament each of her first eight years at Clemson and advanced to the national tournament three times. Hester has guided Clemson to five tournament championships and achieved 37 top five finishes.

Former Clemson All-American Alice Hewson finished fifth at the 2020 qualifying tournament for the Ladies European Tour (LET), and earned her tour card for the 2020 season. Hewson shot a final round 69 at the tournament held in Spain and finished fifth out of 120 players. Her fifth-place finish placed her in the highest category of classification for the tour that will begin in February in New South Wales Australia.

It didn't take Hewson long to establish herself on the LET as she won the first event of her career at the South African Women's Open. She finished 11th on tour in the points race with the win and a pair of top 25 finishes. She then finished 10th on tour in 2021 with five top 10 finishes and nine top 25s in 21 events.

In her four full seasons on the LET Tour she has finished in the top 25 every season in their version of the Tour Championship, including a season best 10th in 2021. She had three top 10s and 11 top 25 finishes in 2023 and was in the top five in total birdies all year.

In 2022, Hewson had four top 10 finishes on the LET Tour, including third place at the Skafto Open and the Joburg Ladies Open. She had four top 10 finishes overall. She ranked in the top 25 of the Race to Costa Del Sol.

Hewson played for the Tigers from 2015-19 and is regarded as the top player in the program's short history. She is the owner of over 40 Clemson records, including career stroke average (72.58), birdies (378), rounds in the 60s (21) and under-par rounds (46). Hewson was a third team All-American in 2017, an honorable mention All-American in 2018 and four-time All-ACC selection was a twotime All-ACC and Academic All-ACC player. She led Clemson to its first NCAA National Tournament appearance and top 20 final ranking in 2017.

She was also the first Clemson golfer to play in the Augusta National Women's Amateur in April of 2019. She finished 10th in the tournament that is rapidly becoming the top women's amateur tournament in the world. She had scores of 76-69-72 in finishing with a 217 total, one over par. In the summer of 2019, in her final tournament as an amateur, she won the European Ladies Amateur Championship for the second time in her career.
