DOGS MAKE MASSIVE JUMP UNDER WHITE

Georgia has made considerable improvement under head coach Mike White from both semantic and quantifiable perspectives.

From traditional "game notes" verbiage you will read:

- Georgia upped its regular-season win total by 10 victories in White's first campaign, the second-largest increase of any Power conference team that season.
- In 2023-24, the Bulldogs earned their first postseason bid since 2017 and while advancing to the NIT semifinals, reached the 20-win mark for the first time since 2016.
- Georgia earned its first NCAA Tournament bid in a decade last season, doing so while playing a nation-leading eight regular-season games against top-10 teams..

From a numerical perspective, Georgia's progress has been even more impressive.

Among six of the most-utilized college basketball metrics, the Bulldogs have ascended an average of 181.2 spots during White's three seasons in Athens as outlined above.

THE DUNKYARD DOGS FINISHING WITH AUTHORITY

According to BartTorvik.com, Georgia has scored 25.0 percent of its field goals this season on dunks – 49 of 195 the Bulldogs' total FGs through six games. As of Saturday, that ranks second nationally – as outlined to the right.

Individually, sophomore Somto Cyril and freshman Jake Wilkins ranked No. 8 and No. 20 in the country in dunks with 13 and 11 rim-rattling finishes, respectively.

The Bulldogs also are among the best teams in college basketball at protecting the rim on dunks. Opponents are converting only 58.8 percent of the attempts to slam the basketball, which is tied for No. 10 nationally according to the website.

TWO TIGERS HAVE TIES TO GEORGIA

Clemson players RJ Godfrey and Dillon Hunter – and their parents – have strong ties to Georgia. Godfrey played for Georgia last season, starting all 33 games and averaging 6.4 points and 3.8 rebounds for the Bulldogs' first NCAA Tournament team since 1995. He is the son of Randall Godfrey, one of the greatest linebackers to ever play for the Bulldogs. Randall was a four-year starter and earned SEC Freshman of the Year honors in 1992 followed by All-SEC accolades in 1993 and 1994. He was selected by the Dallas Cowboys in the second round of the 1996 NFL Draft and went on the play 11 seasons.

Hunter is the son of the late Brice Hunter and Brandi (Decker) Lewis. A native of Valdosta, Hunter played for the Bulldogs from 1992-95 and had 182 catches for 2,373 yards, both of which were school records when he graduated. Lewis was a four-year letterwinner for Georgia's Lady Bulldogs from 1993-97 including teams that finished as 1996 NCAA runner-up, advanced to another Final Four in 1995 and won 1996 and 1997 SEC Championships.

DOUBLE-DIGIT DOGS' HAVE HIT DOUBLE FIGURES

No less than 10 different Georgia Bulldogs recorded double-figure scoring outputs in the first six games of the season.

Those Bulldogs have combined to produce 25 double-digit performances. Blue Cain leads that pack by scoring 10+ in each game, followed by Jeremiah Wilkinson with five; Jake Wilkins with four; Kanon Catchings, Dylan James and Smurf Millender with two; and Justin Bailey, Somto Cyril, Jordan Ross and Kareem Stagg with one each.

Seven of the aforementioned Bulldogs scored in double digits in Georgia's 120-81 win over Morehead State on Nov. 9.

That marked the first time seven Bulldogs hit the 10-point plateau in a single game since a 99-72 decision over Tennessee Tech on Dec. 29, 1994 – a span of 979 contests – when Shandon Anderson, Charles Claxton (aka Nic's dad) and Carlos Strong all scored 13 points, Curtis Carrington and Katu Davis added 12 each; and Perth Robinson and Ty Wilson chipped in 11 apiece.

GEORGIA AMONG NATION'S TOP-10 IN 9 STATS

Peruse the early-season NCAA basketball statistical leaders and you'll find plenty of ledgers featuring the Georgia Bulldogs near the top.

As of Saturday, Georgia is ranked in the nation's top-10 team in nine of the 28 stats the NCAA measures. That's 32.1 percent of the total categories.

More impressively, the Bulldogs were featured in the top-5 teams in six statistics as outlined to the right.

BULLDOGS AMONG SEC'S BEST AT STEALING, SWATTING

With Georgia leading the SEC in both steals and blocks per game, it would be enigmatic if individual Bulldogs weren't also among the league's best in those statistics.

Within Georgia's SEC-best 11.8 steals per contest, Jeremiah Wilkinson is ranked No. 1 in the league (2.7 spg), Blue Cain is No. 6 (2.2 spg) and Dylan James is No. 13 (2.7 spg). Remarkably, James, who recorded 11 steals in 32 games last season, has already matched that total in six contests this year.

The Bulldogs' 9.2 blocks per game as a team features Somto Cyril with a league-leading 2.5 bpg, followed by Justin Abson at No. 3 (2.2 bpg) and Jake Wilkins at No. 13 (1.3 bpg).

WILKINS WINDMILL DUNKS ARE #SCTOP10s

Mark down November 5, 2025 as the day Jake Wilkins made his first appearance in SportsCenter's top-10 plays as a Bulldog.

Mark down November 9, 2020 as the day Wilkins returned to #SCTop10 with an early candidate for college basketball's "dunk of the year."

On Nov. 5, Wilkins' breakaway, windmill dunk capped off the scoring in Georgia's 94-29 win over Maryland Eastern Shore and was tabbed as the No. 7 effort of the day. The highlight was matched up on the highlights with a similar effort by Dominique Wilkins from an NBA Slam Dunk contest.

Four days later, Wilkins accepted a lob from Jeremiah Wilkinson and instead of simply slamming it home added a windmill to the action for quality points. That ended up at No. 2 on SportsCenter, only topped by a bicycle kick goal scored in a snowstorm.

GEORGIA PUTS UP HISTORICAL NUMBERS IN FIRST THREE OUTINGS

Each of the Bulldogs' first three games caused some early editing to the 2025-26 edition of Georgia's media guide.

Georgia's 45-point, 104-59 thumping of Bellarmine on Nov. 3 represented UGA's biggest margin of victory in a season person since defeating Seattle, 103-48, on Nov. 9, 1986.

The 104 points were the most by the Bulldogs since defeating Savannah State, 110-78, in the 2018-29 season opener on Nov. 9, 2018.

The Bulldogs' 65-point, 94-29 win over Maryland Eastern Shore in their next contest two days later represented the Bulldogs' largest margin of victory ever in 63 seasons of play at Stegeman Coliseum and also equaled the ninth-biggest mark in 121 seasons of competition.

The previous record for biggest win gap in the arena was a trio of 60-point decisions. Georgia defeated Southern, 97-37, on Nov. 10, 2006; topped Whittier, 122-62, on Dec. 3, 1979; and beat Baptist College (now Charleston Southern), 122-62, on Dec. 30, 1978.

Overall, the Bulldogs tied the No. 9 effort for margin of victory, matching wins over Fort McPherson (80-15 on Dec. 18, 1926) and Mercer (74-9, on Feb. 9, 1918).

Georgia then put up 120 points versus Morehead State on Nov. 9, a tally that represents the fourth-most ever by the Bulldogs and their highest offensive output since a 124-65 blitzing of Western Kentucky on Nov. 28, 1990.

A "STEGTACULAR" HOME COURT ADVANTAGE

Georgia's home court advantage? It's real and it's Stegtacular.

The Bulldogs have compiled a 46-13 home mark under Mike White and are a perfect 32-0 versus non-conference competition in Stegeman over his three-plus seasons at UGA.

White's success at Stegeman is not confined to his UGA tenure. He was 7-1 in Athens as a visiting head coach, leading Louisiana Tech to a 2014 NIT victory at Stegeman and compiling a 6-1 mark at Florida from 2015-22. That makes White is a combined 53-14 (.791) in Stegeman.

The Bulldogs were 15-3 in Athens last season, matching the program record for home wins in a single season. Georgia also won 15 home games during the 2013-14 and 2015-16 campaigns; however, those tallies include an NIT victory.

The Bulldogs won their first 11 home contests, building a 13-game home winning streak dating back to the 2023-24 seasons. After producing just eight double-digit home winning streaks in Georgia's first 116 seasons of basketball, the Bulldogs have produced three double-digit winning streaks at Stegeman during Mike White's three seasons alone.

Georgia currently owns a seven-game winning streak at Stegeman that began with two impressive victories to cap last season – an 88-83 upset of No. 3 Florida on Feb. 25 and a 79-68 decision over Vanderbilt in the regular-season finale.

PRESEASON ANALYTICS LIKE UGA

Coming off its best season in a decade, Georgia began 2025-26 with its highest projections ever by two of the most utilized college basketball metrics.

The Bulldogs were listed No. 32 by to BartTorvik.com and No. 44 by KenPom.com in preseason ledgers as outlined to the right.

In Torvik projections dating back to 2008, Georgia's previous preseason high was No. 38 prior to last season.

In KenPom's, which began in 2002, UGA's best preseason listing was No. 27 in 2014-15.
