CLEMSON BASKETBALL HEADLINES

» WINNING WAYS: Clemson has won 95 games over the last four seasons (2022-26), including two trips to the NCAA Tournament and the school's second Elite Eight appearance.

• The Tigers are 54-22 overall in the ACC over the same time period, the second-most wins in the ACC behind Duke.

• Clemson's 95-38 record for the last four years is the most wins in Clemson history over a four-year period. The previous mark was a 93-41 mark between 2006-07 and 2009-10.

• The record was broken with a road win at California (Feb. 7). It also clinched just the second era that Clemson has won at least 20 games four years in a row. The first five year era was 2006-07 to 2010-11.

• The Tigers won a school record 27 games in 2024-25, including wins over AP Top 5 Kentucky and Duke. Clemson finished 18-2 in the ACC – the most conference wins in school history, including a record 15 by double-digits (third-most in ACC history). The Tigers finished 9-1 on the road in league play, four more ACC road wins than any previous season.

• Since 2017-18, the Tigers are fourth in the ACC in wins (189) and fourth in league wins (101).

» CLEMSON'S HISTORICAL ROAD ACC WIN STREAK OF 14: Clemson won its 14th-straight ACC road game at California on Feb. 7 by a score of 77-55.

• Dating back to 2024-25, Clemson had won 14 in a row on the road in the ACC. The streak was snapped on Feb. 14 at No. 4 Duke by a 67-54 final score.

• The streak was the second-longest in ACC history and was the longest streak of its kind in the last 25 years in the ACC.

• Clemson's 15-3 (.833) road record in conference play over the last two seasons is second in the league to Duke's 15-2 mark.

» NEW LOOK TIGERS: Clemson underwent its largest roster turnover under Brad Brownell this past offseason that saw the graduations of Chase Hunter, Ian Schieffelin, Viktor Lakhin, Jaeden Zackery, Matt Kelly, Daniel Nauseef and Andrew Latiff. While seven exhausted eligibility, six entered the transfer portal. Dillon Hunter, Dallas Thomas and Ace Buckner are the stayovers from last year's roster.

• Clemson was active in the transfer portal, adding talent from all over the country, including Nick Davidson (Nevada), Carter Welling (Utah Valley), RJ Godfrey (Georgia), Jake Wahlin (Utah), Butta Johnson (UAB) and Justin Porter (Middle Tennessee State). In addition to these six, Clemson will also boast a freshmen class of four: Zac Foster, Chase Thompson, Trent Steynour and Blake Davidson.

• Godfrey returns to Clemson after spending a year away from the program at Georgia. He was recruited by Brownell out of high school and played his first two seasons in Tigertown, including helping the Tigers to the Elite Eight in 2023-24.

BY THE NUMBERS

Clemson has a 95-38 record over the last four years, including a 54-22 record in ACC regular season games. The 95 overall wins ranks first in school history – ahead of the 2006-10 era (Trevor Booker, David Potter). Clemson now has the school record for ACC regular season conference wins in a four-year period from 2022-26 with 54. Last year's four-year class had a 51-29 record in regular season ACC games.

• Godfrey on returning to play for Coach Brownell: "His philosophies have helped me just in life. It's something I took for granted my first two years here ... I'm so grateful I have the opportunity to play for Clemson again."

• Coach Brownell on the team this season: "Be patient. I think we're going to be exciting and fun to watch. The strength of our team is the TEAM. It's our depth."

» RESPECTED PROGRAM: Clemson has garnered the respect of fellow coaches and media across the country for how Head Coach Brad Brownell has built his program and the success the Tigers have had over the last eight seasons, including their player development.

- "Clemson Basketball to me is Brad Brownell. Tough, gritty, incredibly prepared, ready for the next challenge." - Debbie Antonelli, ESPN

- "He's established the identity of what he wants Clemson Basketball to look like...I think he's obviously been underappreciated nationally. I think everyone in the league knows what type of coach he is." - Randolph Childress, ESPN

- "Brad Brownell and his staff do an excellent job with player development." - Paul Biancardi, Recruiting Director, CBB and NBA Draft Analyst for ESPN

- "Clemson Basketball is one of the premier individual player development programs in the country and they have been for awhile. Brad Brownell and his coaches do a great job." - Tom Crean, former head coach posted on X

- "I want to congratulate Coach Brownell and his team. I had a lot of respect for those guys coming in. In my opinion, I think he's one of the more underrated coaches in college basketball. Had all the traits of a good basketball team, tough and physical..." - Ross Hodge, West Virginia Head Coach

- "Clemson, as long as I've been in the league, has always been one of the best coached teams. I think he doesn't get enough credit for how well a job he does. I think he's one of the best coaches in the country." - Jai Lucas, Miami Head Coach

FIFTY SIX ACC ROAD WINS FOR BROWNELL

- With the victory at California, Brad Brownell now has 56 ACC road wins in his career, most in Clemson history. The program has 132 ACC road wins in its history, so Brownell has 42.4 percent of Clemson's ACC road wins all time.
- Brownell is 56-87 in ACC road games in his Clemson career, a .392 winning percentage. The Clemson program is 132-402 all-time in ACC road wins, a .247 winning percentage.
- The Feb. 7 victory at California was Clemson's 14th consecutive ACC road win, the longest streak in Clemson history. The previous best was a five-game streak in 1986-87, the first five road games of Horace Grant's senior year.

CLEMSON GOES WEST

- Clemson became just the third team in the league over the last two seasons to finish 2-0 on its West Coast road trip. The Tigers defeated Stanford 66-64 and then California 77-55.
- Clemson returns home and lost to Virginia Tech on Feb. 11. Only one team in the league has gone 2-0 on the west coast and then won its first game back after returning (Duke this season with the advantage of a week off).
- This is the second season that Stanford and California have been in the ACC. The scheduling format calls for the opponents not based on the west coast to play the two west coast team on the same trip with two days in between.
- So far, 17 schools have made the trip to California. Clemson joined Wake Forest in 2024-25 and Duke this year, to have swept both California schools. Only Duke has won both games in California, then won its first game back on the east coast. Duke did have the advantage of a week off before playing its first game (vs. Wake Forest) after the trip.
- The 15 schools to make the trip to California have a 4-11 record in their first game after the California trip. All 15 of those games have been at home.
- Last year the home team was 113-67 in ACC games, a 62.7 percent winning mark. It is obvious that the trip to California takes a toll on teams when you compare the 26.7 percent winning percentage for the first game after the trip, all at home, vs. the 62.7 percent winning mark for all league home teams.

- During the 2025 calendar year, Clemson lost just one home game, the triple overtime contest to the Yellow Jackets.
- Clemson is 54-11 at home over the last four seasons. That includes a 12-3 mark this season, 15-2 last year, 12-4 in 2023-24 and 15-2 in 2022-23.
- Since 2019-20, Clemson is 4-0 vs. Top 5 teams in Littlejohn Coliseum, wins over Duke (twice), Louisville and Kentucky. The Tigers also have a win over No. 3 North Carolina on the road during that time for a 5-0 record in its last five games vs. Top 5 teams.

BEATING THE BEST IN COLLEGE HISTORY

- Clemson and Head Coach Brad Brownell have been on quite a run when it comes to defeating the historically best in college basketball history. The Tigers have recorded wins over Notre Dame (76-61), Cincinnati (68-65) and Syracuse (64-61) this season, while falling at No. 4 Duke 67-54. All four have been away from home. Syracuse is the seventh winningest program in college history, Notre Dame is eighth and Cincinnati is 12th.
- Clemson's win over Syracuse was the Orange's 1000th loss in history.
- Over the last two years Clemson is 8-1 against the top 12 winningest programs in college basketball history. That includes a 5-0 record last year when Clemson beat Kentucky (#1), North Carolina (#3), Duke (#4), Syracuse (#7) and Notre Dame (#8).
- Clemson's next opportunity against a top 12 program will come March 3 at North Carolina.

CLEMSON'S BALANCE

- As you can see by the game-by-game leaders chart below this is a balanced Clemson team.
- As you can determine from the chart below, seven different players have led the team in scoring and six different players have led the team in rebounding so far this season. Clemson defeated South Carolina on Dec. 16 and Ace Buckner led the Tigers in scoring (19) and rebounding (7). It marked the first time this year the same player led the Tigers in scoring and rebounding in the same game this year.
- Only three times has the same player led in points and rebounds. Buckner against South Carolina, Carter Welling against Miami (Jan. 17) and Welling against Virginia Tech (Feb. 11).
- Clemson's win over Louisville provided just the second game this season (excluding ties) that Tiger guards led Clemson in scoring, rebounding and assists in a single game. The other occurrence was Clemson's win over South Carolina.

CLEMSON STARTED ACC PLAY 6-0

- Clemson got off to a 6-0 start in the ACC, the second best league start in school history. The Tigers started 7-0 in 2022-23. Clemson also started 5-0 in 1986-87 and 1996-97.
- Clemson started 4-0 in the ACC last year before suffering a 10-point loss at Louisville, one of just two league losses for Clemson a year ago. Combined with this year, this is the first time Clemson has started at least 4-0 in the league in consecutive seasons.

- Note that Clemson has gotten off to a 4-0 or better league start five times and Brad Brownell has been the coach in three of those seasons.

CLEMSON'S BEST ACC STARTS

2025-26	6-0	Home vs. NC State, 80-76 (OT) (1-20-26)

2024-25	4-0	at Louisville, 64-74 (1-7-25)

PLAYING FIRST TWO ACC GAMES ON THE ROAD

- This marks the 19th time in history Clemson has played each of its first two ACC games on the road. The previous 18 seasons that has been the case, Clemson has never won its first two league games.
- The Tigers beat Syracuse at Syracuse on Dec. 31 by a score of 64-61 and completed the 2-0 trip with a 73-68 win at Pittsburgh on Jan. 3.
- It's the first time in program history that Clemson has won its first two league games, both on the road.

SEASONS CLEMSON HAS WON FIRST TWO ACC ROAD GAMES

- When it comes winning each of its first two ACC games on the road, Clemson has done it six times. In those seasons Clemson played a home ACC game to start its league schedule.
- Clemson won its first five ACC road games in 1986-87, Horace Grant's senior year.
- The Tigers won their first three league road games in 1996-97 under Rick Barnes, and won the first three ACC road games under Brad Brownell in 2022-23. Clemson won its first seven league games regardless of site to open that year, the best start to a league schedule in Clemson history.
- Clemson also won its first two league road games in 1975-76 and 2006-07.

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS IN THE NON-CONFERENCE

- Clemson had a 10-3 record in its now completed regular season non-conference slate. Included in the resume are wins over Georgia (#34 in the NET, the Bulldogs only non-conference loss) and a victory over West Virginia in the Charleston Classic. Additionally the team posted power conference wins over South Carolina and Cincinnati. Clemson's three losses are to power basketball conference teams Georgetown, Alabama and BYU. All three losses were away from home and three of the four wins were away from home.
- This year's Clemson team accomplished two things in the non-conference part of the schedule that all 15 previous Clemson NCAA Tournament teams have also accomplished – having a winning record in regular season tournament play and having three losses or less in regular season non-conference slate.
- As you can see by the chart below, no Clemson team with four or more non-conference losses in the regular season has made the NCAA tournament. The only NCAA Tournament team that didn't have a winning record in regular season tournament games was the 1995-96 team that didn't play any regular season tournament games.

TRENT STEINOUR PLAYS IN FIRST GAME AT CLEMSON

- Trent Steinour made his Clemson debut against New Hampshire on Nov. 3, 2025. He scored two points and grabbed two rebounds in the 88-38 victory.
- Steinour is the grandson of Littlejohn Legend and former Clemson big man Randy Mahaffey who played for the Tigers from 1964-67.
- Mahaffey was one of four to suit up for the Tigers: Tom Mahaffey (1959-62), Donnie Mahaffey (1961-64) and Richie Mahaffey (1966-70).
- Randy was a two-time All-ACC player, earning Second Team honors in 1965 and First Team honors in 1967.
- In 1966-67, Randy's last year at Clemson, he averaged 16.8 points and 9.0 rebounds per game. He was also an All-ACC Tournament team member in 1967.
- Randy was selected 16th overall in the second round of the NBA Draft in 1967 by the Los Angeles Lakers. He later spent his career playing in the ABA for the Kentucky Colonels (1967-68), New York Nets (1968-69) and Carolina Cougars (1969-71). He played 321 total games and scored 11.9 points per contest, while adding 8.0 rebounds per game.

-- ELDEN CAMPBELL (1968-2025) --

FORMER CLEMSON ALL-AMERICAN ELDEN CAMPBELL PASSES

Elden Campbell, Clemson's all-time leading scorer and three-time All-ACC player, died on Monday, December 1. He was 57 years old.

Campbell came to Clemson as a freshman in 1986-87 and helped the Tigers to a 25-6 record and the NCAA tournament as Horace Grant's backup center. As a sophomore he stepped into the starting lineup and averaged a career best 18.8 points per game and was a Third Team All-ACC selection. As a junior in 1988-89 he was a Second Team All-ACC choice and averaged a team-best 17.5 points per game for Clemson's

NCAA Tournament team.

As a senior in 1989-90, he teamed with Dale Davis to give Clemson one of the top frontcourt combinations in college basketball. Both were named honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press, the only time Clemson has had two All-Americans on the same team.

Campbell led the 1989-90 Tigers in scoring with a 16.4 average. Clemson won the ACC regular season championship for the only time in school history, finished with a 26-9 record and advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament.

Campbell finished his Clemson career with 1,880 points, a record that still stands 35 years after he played his last game. He is still first in career made field goals (754), tied for first in career double figure scoring games (97), second in blocked shots (334), third in 20-point scoring games (34), seventh in made free throws (369) and eighth in career rebounds (836).

"I am deeply saddened to learn of Elden Campbell's passing," said Cliff Ellis, Campbell's head coach at Clemson. "Elden was a great player for four years, especially in 1989-90 when he was a major reason we won Clemson's only ACC regular season championship. He went on to a 15-year career in the NBA and won a World Championship."

"But most of all, Elden was an outstanding, giving person. This is a sad day for the Clemson family. Elden loved Clemson, he came back and supported the program after he retired. He exemplified what Clemson was all about."

Campbell was the first-round draft choice, the 27th overall selection, of the Los Angeles Lakers in the 1990 NBA draft. He played for the Lakers for nine years and is still third in Lakers history in blocked shots, trailing only Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Shaquille O'Neal. He played in the NBA Finals for the Lakers against the Bulls his rookie year.

Campbell went on to play 15 total seasons in the NBA. He played four years with the Charlotte Hornets, then played for the Detroit Pistons for two seasons, including the Pistons World Championship team of 2003-04. Campbell retired at the end of the 2004-05 season. He finished with 10,805 points and 6,116 rebounds and 1,602 blocked shots.
